

This October at NTSU

This October at NTSU

Isata Kanneh-Mason

British Pianist

Isata Kanneh-Mason is a British pianist, who grew up in Nottingham and has been described as “one of today’s most in-demand classical musicians”. She is a frequent collaborator with her brother, cellist Sheku Kanneh-Mason.

Isata Kanneh-Mason has received many awards, including the coveted Leonard Bernstein Award from the Schleswig-Holstein Festival and an Opus Klassik award for best young artist. She made her solo debut at the BBC Proms in 2023, playing Sergei Prokofiev’s Piano Concerto #3 with the BBC National Orchestra of Wales.

Want to join in on Black History Month events this year?

Click here to find out more

